ATI Practice Examination Requirements

- Questions are presented in the NCLEX-RN format.
- Each version provides additional practice for the proctored examinations, but the items/content will not be identical to the proctored examinations.
- Prior to taking each proctored examination (Content Mastery or RN Comprehensive Predictor), students are required to complete an ATI Practice examination for the specified proctored examination.
- Students will be permitted to take the proctored examination under the following conditions:
 - The student achieves 90% on the practice examination (the practice examination may be taken multiple times to achieve the required individual score;
 - The student completes a minimum of two practice exams understanding that if 90% is not achieved, the student is at risk of not succeeding on the proctored exam.
- A Focused-Review is expected following each attempt to reach the required proficiency level.
 - Log into the ATI website at <http://www.atitesting.com> .
 - Open My Results and Remediation tab.
 - Select the Focused-Review icon that corresponds to the examination you wish to review.
 - Utilize links provided to video clips and relevant pages in the respective Content Review Modules for review of specific content.
 - Note: Faculty monitor Focused-Reviews including time spent in the review process.
 - Students are also encouraged to utilize their required course textbooks and lecture notes in the review process.
 - The Testing Coordinator or designee will verify that the student has achieved the appropriate individual score on the practice examination prior to the scheduled date for testing. Following verification- Codes will be released for the proctored examination.

Content Mastery Examinations

- Questions are presented in the NCLEX-RN format.
- Level 2 will be the Institutional Benchmark for passing all Content Mastery examinations.
- All proctored examinations in the Content Mastery Series will count as 10% of the course grade in which they are administered. (Exceptions: TEAS, Critical Thinking and RN Comprehensive Predictor)

- 1st Content Mastery Examinations in a content area:
 - Prior to testing satisfy the ATI Practice Examination Requirements. The student is strongly encouraged to achieve a 90% individual score on two or more tries. Two tries with any score will be required to continue before taking the Content Mastery Examination. Not achieving the 90% may put the student at risk of achieving Level II, but the decision and consequences are up to the individual student.
 - Students achieving Proficiency Level 3 on the 1st Content Mastery Proctored Examination will receive 100% of the possible points assigned by the course instructor to this ATI examination (10% of the total course points)
 - Students achieving Proficiency Level 2 will receive 85% of the possible points assigned by the course instructor to this ATI examination (0.85 x 10% of the total course points).
 - Students who do not achieve the Institutional Benchmark on the 1st proctored Content Mastery examination in a course/content area must take a second examination.

- 2nd Content Mastery Examinations in a content area:
 - Only students who have not achieved Level 2 or above on the first Content Mastery Proctored Examination may repeat the examination in a specific course/content area.
 - Prior to testing satisfy the ATI Practice Examination Requirements using a second version of the practice examination. The student is strongly encouraged to achieve a 90% individual score on two or more tries. Two tries with any score will be required to continue before taking the Content Mastery Examination. Not achieving the 90% may put the student at risk of achieving Level II, but the decision and consequences are up to the individual student. This version contains rationales for the correct and incorrect responses-it is suggested that you review rationales for both.
 - The second proctored examination in a content area will be a different version than the first.
 - It is strongly encouraged that the student completes a Focused-Review between the first and second proctored examinations in a content area.
 - Students achieving Proficiency Level 2 or 3 on second proctored examinations will receive 75% of the possible points assigned by the course instructor to this ATI examination (0.75 x 10% of the total course points)
 - Students achieving Proficiency Level 1 will receive 50% of the possible points assigned by the course instructor to this ATI examination (0.5 x 10% of the total course points)
 - Students achieving less than Level 1 will not receive any of the possible points assigned by the course instructor to this ATI examination.
 - The most recent score will count.
 - Students not reaching Level 1 on the Content Mastery Examination in the content area will fail the course starting in Fall 2012.

RN Comprehensive Predictor Examinations

- The RN Comprehensive Predictor examination is required for all pre-RN licensure students.
- The examination will count as 30% of the course grade in the nursing course in which the RN Comprehensive Predictor Examination is administered.

- Students are required to meet the benchmark for this examination to be eligible to receive an official transcript verifying that the BS degree has been awarded or an official certificate verifying completion of an accredited nursing program. Documentation of completion of the program and degree requirements must be submitted with application for state licensure.

 - Students achieving a score that indicates between 89%-93% probability of passing NCLEX-RN on the second attempt will be awarded 50% of the total points for the ATI Test ($0.50 \times 30\%$ of the total course points)
 - Students achieving a score that indicates $< 89\%$ probability of passing NCLEX-RN will:
 - Earn an (IN) incomplete in the nursing course in which the RN Comprehensive Predictor Examination is administered.
 - Will not be allowed to graduate.
 - Will be scheduled to take the RN Comprehensive Predictor the next time the test is regularly offered in the nursing course in which the RN Comprehensive Predictor Examination is administered. The student will be allowed to take the test twice during that semester and the grade will be determined by the point system in the course syllabus.

- If this is the student's first nursing course failure, the student will be allowed to enroll in the nursing course in which the RN Comprehensive Predictor Examination is administered.
- If this is the student's second nursing course failure, the student will be dismissed from the major in accordance with the Department's dismissal policy. The dismissal policy will be upheld by the faculty and administration.

Critical Thinking

- The Critical Thinking Entrance Examination (taken in the first nursing course upon entering the nursing program) and the Critical Thinking Exit Examination (taken in the final semester of the nursing program) are requirements to successfully complete the courses. No course points are assigned for these examinations. These examinations are used for program assessment and students are expected to perform to the best of their ability.

Utilization of Data for Curricular Improvement

- Faculty in the courses where ATI testing is placed throughout the Baccalaureate Degree Nursing Program will access aggregate reports of student performance for their respective courses. For exams that test content covered in multiple courses, faculty should share the report with other relevant course faculty. The data will then be used for course improvement.
- Review of aggregate reports for implications relevant to the overall curriculum will be the responsibility of the Executive Director for Nursing or an appropriate body designated by the Executive Director.

Frequently Asked Questions

What is ATI?

- Assessment Technologies Institute (ATI) offers a Comprehensive Assessment and Review Program (CARP) designed to increase student pass rates on the nursing licensing exam and to lower program attrition.
- CARP is required and is utilized from the sophomore to the senior year in the undergraduate nursing program (LPN to BS and RN to BS tracks).
- ATI tools can help students prepare more efficiently, as well as increase confidence and familiarity with content and computerized NCLEX-RN testing.
- CARP includes on-line tutorials, content review modules, NCLEX-RN style practice and proctored examinations, and individualized exam reports and study plan for review.

I'm a transfer student requesting credit for nursing courses from another institution and have not taken ATI examinations (Content Mastery). Can I receive equivalent credit for transfer NURS courses without taking the corresponding ATI examinations?

- Transfer students are held to the same ATI assessment requirements as matriculating students.

- Transfer credit will not be awarded for approved nursing courses until the designated exams are satisfactorily completed.
- See the ATI Test Placement table at the end of the Implementation Procedure for a list of ATI Examinations that are required with specific nursing courses.

Now I am taking my Nursing Courses in the beginning of the sophomore year.
How should I use my ATI materials?

- In conjunction with respective course assignments, you can use the appropriate content review modules as a means to help you study and assess your learning. In courses designated for ATI examination, codes for non-proctored computerized practice examinations will be provided by the instructor. The practice examination results provide a structure for focused-review. Near the end of the course, you will take a computerized comprehensive proctored examination. This will tell you how you did in comparison to other nursing students from BS nursing programs across the nation. A portion of your course grade will reflect this performance (see Implementation Procedure). You will be required to do additional remediation if you did not achieve the minimum required individual score. This is further explained under ATI Practice Examination Requirements in the Implementation Procedure. The number of ATI examinations required in a nursing course varies, depending on the course content or level in the program.

What is a Proficiency Level?

- Nurse-educator content experts from around the U.S. participated in setting a National standard for the ATI scores on each Content Mastery examination (not the Comprehensive Predictor examination) that relate to different levels of proficiency. Listed below you will find a description of what each proficiency level means:
- Proficiency Level 3—indicates student is likely to exceed NCLEX-RN® performance standards in this content area. Students are encouraged to engage in continuous focused review to maintain and improve their knowledge of this content.
- Proficiency Level 2--indicates a student is fairly certain to meet NCLEX-RN® performance standards in this content area. Students are encouraged to engage in continuous focused review in order to improve their knowledge of this content.
- Proficiency Level 1-- indicates a student is likely to just meet NCLEX-RN® performance standards in this content area. Students are encouraged to develop and complete a rigorous plan of focused review in order to achieve a firmer grasp of this content.

What is Remediation?

- Remediation means to review what you got correct on an examination and to clarify or improve knowledge in areas in which your knowledge is deficient. Information on Focused-Review is located in the Implementation Procedure under ATI Practice Examination Requirements. In addition, deficient areas should also be reviewed using respective textbooks and lecture notes.

What about when I am a senior preparing to graduate?

- During your last semester in the nursing program, you will receive online test codes to access content mastery practice examinations in order to review prior content. You will also take a critical thinking exit examination (all students) and a comprehensive predictor examination (LPN to BS students). The Comprehensive Predictor Assessment is a 180-item assessment designed to reflect the content areas of the current NCLEX-RN licensing examination blueprint. This tool provides information on the student's probability of NCLEX® success, as well as detailed information about strengths and weaknesses. Students are required to meet the benchmark for this examination to receive a grade in this course and to complete the Baccalaureate Nursing Program.

What if I cannot take my scheduled ATI examination due to a class conflict or an emergency?

- Prior to the scheduled examination, you must notify your instructor, the Testing Coordinator or designee (812-237-2726), and the proctor of the conflict with testing prior to the arranged date. Rescheduling after the end of the semester is restricted to emergency circumstances.
- Students who do not complete a required ATI examination by the end of the semester (other than in emergency circumstances) will not receive any of the possible points assigned by the instructor to the missed ATI examination.

What if I am repeating or re-enrolling in a dropped course that has required ATI testing?

- All students repeating or re-enrolling must also repeat all ATI examinations required for that course.
- This includes students who have been successful in meeting or exceeding Level 2 for ATI Content-Mastery Examination(s), or meeting the required benchmark for the Comprehensive Predictor, whichever is specific to the repeated course.
